NEWS RELEASE

NEW VENDOR APPROVAL GIVES LATTICE BIOLOGICS ACCESS TO 39 ADDITIONAL HOSPITALS

Company brings its focus on innovation and emerging technology to major hospital group which includes the world's premier neurological center

September 6, 2016 - Scottsdale, AZ - Lattice Biologics Ltd. (TSX-V: LBL) (OTCBB: BLVKF) ("Lattice Biologics" or the "Company") announced today that it has been selected by another major healthcare services organization as an approved vendor. This not-for-profit public benefit corporation operates 39 hospitals and more than 400 care centers across California, Arizona, and Nevada, with services extending to a total of 21 states. Founded 30 years ago, this US$15 billion integrated health system is now California's largest hospital provider.

"We are very excited with the latest hospital system approval for our team," stated Darrell Denslow, National Sales Director at Lattice Biologics. "As a result, Lattice will be working with prestigious, world renowned surgeons practicing throughout the Southwest. These connections will be valuable to further stimulate advancements in all of our products. We especially look forward to sharing with the physicians the benefit of excellent, novel data on our new disruptive amnion technology for viscosupplementation."

Lattice Biologics' ongoing clinical research and R&D efforts into next generation allografts and regenerative medicine aligns with the organization's commitment to creativity and ingenuity in medicine. The organization manages an Intellectual Innovation Network devoted to identifying valuable emerging health technology that leads to ground-breaking discoveries and new products.

Hospitals in the Arizona region of care offer unique expertise in emergency care, neurology, cardiology, orthopedics, and oncology. One of the Arizona facilities is renowned as the world's largest neurological disease treatment and research institution and ranked as one of the best neurosurgical training centers in the United States.

About Lattice Biologics Ltd.:

Lattice Biologics recently completed its RTO, becoming a publically traded company on January 4, 2016 and is traded on the TSX-V under the symbol: LBL. The Company is an emerging personalized/precision medicine leader in the field of cellular therapies and tissue engineering, with a focus on bone, skin, and cartilage regeneration.

Lattice Biologics develops and manufactures biologic products to domestic and international markets. Lattice's products are used in a variety of surgical applications.

Lattice Biologics maintains its headquarters, laboratory and manufacturing facilities in Scottsdale, Arizona as well as offices in Toronto Ontario. The facility includes ISO Class 1000 and ISO Class 100 clean rooms, and specialized equipment capable of crafting traditional allografts and precision specialty allografts for various clinical applications. The Lattice Biologics team includes highly trained tissue bank specialists, surgical technicians, certified sterile processing and distribution technicians, and CNC operators who maintain the highest standards of aseptic technique throughout each step of the manufacturing process. From donor acceptance to the final packaging and distribution of finished allografts, Lattice is committed to maintaining the highest standards of allograft quality, innovation, and customer satisfaction.

Lattice Biologics maintains all necessary licensures to process and sell its tissue engineered products within the U.S. and internationally. This includes Certificates to Foreign Governments from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and registrations for 29 countries, which allow the export of bone, tendon, meniscus, ligament, soft tissue, and cartilage products outside of the U.S.
